

PROTECTION OF OUR CLIMATE

Section 1. Food Waste Reduction. The University will implement a composting program in all dining venues and residence halls on campus. This program shall be implemented in the 2025-2026 school year. All student workers who work with food will be properly trained on how to compost and report food waste.

The compost program will be managed by Campus Planning and Facilities Management. The program will include:

1. Compost in every dining venue and residence hall
2. Maintaining clear signage and digital communications about how to properly compost
3. The compost will include all food waste (including animal products) and some fibers (napkins, coffee filters, and paper towels)
4. All University campuses will participate in this program

Section 2. Camas Harvesting. The University shall properly maintain all camas that are located on campus. During the months of April through early June, all camas are to be uprooted; it shall be given to the Indigenous community on campus (Native American Indigenous Studies Arc, Native American Student Union, or The Many Nations Longhouse).
