

The University of Oregon is committed to promoting a safe, respectful, and inclusive learning and working environment for students, faculty, and staff. Together, we share the responsibility to foster and maintain a culture of respect.

In support of that commitment, university leadership is requiring all faculty and staff* to complete the updated workplace harassment & discrimination prevention training by the end of the spring term.

Workplace Harassment & Discrimination Prevention Training

Mandatory for Faculty and Staff

All faculty, officers of administration, classified employees, and graduate employees must complete this training.*

Complete the Training by June 30, 2019

Go to hr.uoregon.edu/discrimination-prevention to access the online mandatory training.

Contact hrinfo@uoregon.edu for assistance.

- The web-based training is hosted in MyTrack and appears on your development plan.
- It takes about 60 minutes to complete.
- Hourly employees will be paid for their time spent completing the training, and exempt employees can take the training during working hours.
